- What a virtual assistant can take off your plate
- Your day, your leads, your listings
- Social media and video editing
- Phones, call center and medical billing
- How to start with one short conversation

THE IDEA

From to-do to to-done.

> "My amazing virtual assistant is taking my eventually list, my checklist, my to-do list, and turning it into a to-done list."

Busy entrepreneur, real estate agent, business owner, busy mom or busy working professional: a virtual assistant can really make a difference. AI is amazing, but AI needs an AI operator. Most people never start because they don't know what to hand over. A confused mind does nothing. So here is the list: tick what you would hand off.

Keep your business on track

- Calendar and inbox management. Never miss an important date or lead.
- Lead management and follow-up. Nurturing leads so you can close more deals.
- Listing and transaction coordination. From contract to close.
- MLS and database management. Keeping your pipeline clean and updated.
- Client communication. Quick replies, happy clients.
- Research and data entry. Market research, comps, property information.
- Marketing support. Content, email campaigns, flyers.
- Admin tasks. Documents, forms, reports.

BEYOND THE INBOX

Your content, your phones, your day.

SOCIAL MEDIA AND VIDEO EDITING

- Reels, TikToks and YouTube Shorts
- Property tours and market updates
- Client testimonials, tips and advice
- Captions, transitions, music, branding

EVERY DAY

- Check and organize email
- Review the calendar and plan the day
- Follow up with leads and clients
- Update systems and plan ahead

Your phones and your office: a call center to answer your calls and set appointments, cold calling, CRM management, profiles, websites and automations set up, and medical billing for medical offices.

The tools: Lofty, kvCORE, dotloop, Canva, Google Workspace, Mailchimp, Trello, and more.

How to start

Tick what you would hand off, then call. “One 10-minute conversation with my VA and you can have 50 things done.” Don’t wait: it is cost efficient, and it is amazing to just know that things are being done.
